

SCHOOL TRUSTEE CASE FOR HEARING TONIGHT

Jury in Circuit Court Refuses Damages to Powell, But Gives $10,000 to Jones

The much-agitated school trustee election case of P. M. McKimney against G. L. Penny and the Stanford School Board, will come to trial before Judge C. A. Hardin at a special session of court Tuesday night.

A jury in circuit court on Saturday found for the defendant L. & N. railroad company in the suit for $10,000 damages brought against it by J. R. Powell, whose saw mill, north of the railroad, burned down several months ago. The verdict of the jury came as quite a surprise, as it is very seldom that the railroad is found liable in such a case. Mr. Powell, it is said, had refused a compromise offered by the railroad before trial for $3,200. It is said that an appeal will be taken.

The $10,000 damage suit of Geo. Jones' administrator against the Cincinnati Southern railroad was then taken up. Attorneys George D. Florence, of Stanford and Robert Harding, of Danville, representing the plaintiffs, and Attorney K. S. Alcorn, of Stanford, the defendant, Jones, a resident of Casey county, was killed while working as section hand near Crescent Springs in Kenton county. He is said to have been run over and killed by an engine while attempting to remove a jack from the rails.

The jury gave judgment against the railroad for $10,000 in this case.

Freights in Head-on Collision

Two freight trains had a slight head-on collision at Rowland about four o'clock Tuesday morning, causing to derailment of the engines and about four freight cars. No one was hurt. Train No. 81 was south-bound and standing on the main track waiting for train No. 54, a double header, to take the siding, going north. The train behind was so heavy and the rails were so slick that the engineer on the latter was unable to stop in time for the waiting train, driving 54's engine back through four cars. A small amount of trackage was torn up.

PROMINENT WEST ENDER DEAD

"Big Jim" McKinney Passes Away After Long, Useful Life

James J. McKinney, known to his host of friends and acquaintances in the West End and all over this and other counties, as "Big Jim" McKinney, died at his home at Mt. Salem early Tuesday morning, after a lengthy illness of heart trouble and other complications. In the death of Mr. McKinney, the West End of Lincoln has lost one of its most prominent citizens and farmers. He was 77 years of age and was born and raised on the home place where death found him at the end of a long and useful life.

Mr. McKinney was for many years a faithful member of the Baptist church, and a worthy and estimable citizen in every way, having the confidence of the community in which he lived to an unusual degree. His wife, who preceded him to the Great Beyond a few years ago, was Miss Miss Lizzie Frye, a sister of Mr. A. M. Frye, of Hustonville. He is survived by five children, who are John and Walter McKinney, Mrs. Maggie Lewis, of Yates Center, Kansas, Mrs. Edgar Reynolds, of McKinney, and Mrs. Kate Williams, of Norma, Tenn. Two brothers, Bert McKinney, of Kidd's Store and Will McKinney, of Williamsburg and three sisters, Mrs. John Skinner, of Missouri, Mrs. Ann Green and Mrs. Belle Floyd also survive.

The funeral of Mr. McKinney will be held at the Hustonville cemetery at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 18, conducted by Mr. J. C. McClary. The pallbearers will be Messrs. Sam McKinney, W. B. Hill, H. D. Frye, J. W. Powell, J. B. Williams and M. S. Burton.

Anti-illiteracy Campaign Started

Mrs. Lucien Beckner, of Winchester, spoke before the Woman's club of Stanford last week, supporting the movement which has been put on foot in Kentucky to raise a fund to stamp out illiteracy. She was heard by a good sized audience at the Christian church. A campaign has been inaugurated to wipe out illiteracy in the state by the year 1920.

LATEST WAR NEWS

The gigantic British battleship Audacious was sunk by a German mine in the North Sea last week.

Lord Roberts, a British hero of India and South Africa, died of pneumonia while visiting the English army in France Saturday.

Without a dissenting voice the English House of Commons granted the request of Premier Asquith for $1,125,000,000 for war purposes and an additional million men. Members urged that the country should be given fuller details of the war. The cost of the war to England, the premier said, is nearly five million dollars a day.

A Venice, Italy, dispatch received in Rome says that Cracow, capital of Galicia, is burning and that its inhabitants are fleeing from the Russians.

The Turks lost 250 men and two guns during the bombardment of the Dardanelles by the Russians.

The French and German reports are again contradictory regarding the progress of their armies in Flanders and along the French battle front. The section around Dixmude has been flooded and the movements of troops impeded by winter's snow and rains.

Petrograd reports the Russian campaign developing favorably in East Prussia. Along the border, the Russians are marching in snow clad in sheepskin jackets.

Judge Pryor Dead

Justice William S. Pryor, for 25 years a member of the Kentucky Court of Appeals, died Monday morning at his home near New Castle, Henry county, at the age of 89.

Snow fell in several Kentucky counties Monday.

MIDDLEBURG

S. J. Bell is building a dam by a mill site. He already has a mill by a dam site.

Farmers are busy gathering corn and the crop is being reported good. E. A. Wesley has moved to his farm on Hites Creek and Brock Godley has moved to the college dormitory.

Deputy Sheriff Silas Ashley was here Tuesday collecting taxes. He raked in quite a number of shekels in a very short time.

We are authorized to say that the Republican majority in the late election in this county was 217 instead of 317 as published in the Casey County News. Just a little difference of 100 votes. We suppose Henry thought a majority of only 217 in Casey was "too bad."

J. C. Coulter bought four fat hogs of McD. Fogle at seven cents. Rev. C. T. Claunch and Miss Essie Hanly attended the general Association of Baptists at Somerset last week.

Clarence Coleman, though perched pretty high in the city of Louisville, does not overlook his friends back in Casey. He keeps them posted on matters in the city and the whole world as to that matter, by sending them the dailies and other periodicals that are greatly appreciated by us poor mortals in the country.

Rev. C. T. Claunch has closed a meeting at Valley Oak Baptist church with ten additions.

We want to endorse the sentiment of Dr. R. H. Bohon, as expressed in his article some weeks since on the pardoning of Henry Yontsey. It is true it looks hard for Yontsey to suffer and the rest of the scoundrels who are more guilty than he go free. We fail to see how a governor with an uplifted hand sworn to execute the law could so forget the oath he has taken as to set them free. But this action of Ex-Gov. Willson does not lessen Yontsey's crime. He is a self-confessed murderer and the part he took in the assassination of Gov. Goebel was deliberate and actuated by what he was to get out of it. Yontsey should not be pardoned. The law would not be satisfied, neither would society be made better by setting him free.

The remains of Mrs. Coffman, who died at her late home on the Rolling Fork, were brought here Tuesday and interred in the Middleburg cemetery. She was the mother of James Coffman, who runs a blacksmith shop here. Several relatives and friends whose names we did not learn came over with the remains.

Despondency Due to Indigestion

It is not at all surprising that persons who have indigestion become discouraged and despondent. Here are a few words of hope and cheer for them by Mrs. Blanche Bowens, Indiana, Pa. "For years my digestion was so poor that I could only eat the lightest foods. I tried everything that I heard of to get relief, but not until about a year ago when I saw Chamberlain's Tablets advertised and got a bottle of them, did I find the right treatment. I soon began to improve and since taking a few bottles of them my digestion is fine." For sale by all dealers.

COL. WALTON FOR SECRETARY OF STATE

Former Editor of I. J. and Leading Democrat Deserves Well of His Party

Unusual interest was occasioned Monday by the announcement from Lexington of the candidacy of Col. W. P. Walton, formerly editor of the Interior Journal and a resident of Stanford for 25 years, for the Democratic nomination for Secretary of State. Col. Walton is one of the most popular newspapermen in Kentucky, and his brothers of skill will undoubtedly do everything in their power to insure his victory. So far no other candidate has announced against him, but his host of friends in this county and this section of the state will take off their coats and go to work for him at once. He is a democrat of the old school, uncompromising and unafraid and in every way qualified and experienced for the position he asks of the party. He has worked for its success all his life without reward, and deserves this little consideration after a life time of service. The Lexington Herald said in making announcement of his candidacy:

Col. W. P. Walton, veteran newspaper editor and one of the best-known Democrats in Kentucky, whose work as an editor has been of inestimable value to the Democratic party in Kentucky last night announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Secretary of State in the primary in August next.

Col. Walton, who formerly was editor and owner of the Stanford Interior Journal, recently sold his interest in the Richmond Climax to Judge Grant E. Lilly and has been "out of a job" as he put it, except for the editorial work he has been doing on The Herald, work that has been a popular feature of the editorial page. He has also been doing the "State Press" for The Herald, but this work has not been sufficient to provide an outlet for his great energy and he has decided to buy another paper or get into politics.

Not finding the newspaper he wanted available the Colonel has made the jump into the political race and for the first time in his life is asking the party he has long served without hope of reward or fear of punishment for the nomination for Secretary of State next year.

Colonel Walton is the first candidate to announce for this nomination, but there have been rumors that Senator Charles D. Arnett, of Morgan County, was considering the matter and that he might announce his intentions at an early date.

Colonel Walton's announcement, made in that language that is characteristic of his newspaper work and that made people who seldom looked at an editorial column, whether they approved the views expressed or not, was in answer to an inquiry as to the truth of the report that he intended to run. He said: "Yes, sir, I am a candidate for Secretary of State and am so on my own initiative. I have not been greatly urged in person, nor have I been flooded with letters asking me to make the race, as is usual in such cases made and provided. Neither have I consulted the coteries of incumbents at Frankfort, who seem to have met and parceled off the offices among themselves for next year's election."

"You can say that I am in the race to win, believing that I can fill the office with credit to myself and to the State. I have never held an office of consequence nor have I been a candidate until now. I shall ask the Democrats of the State if they regard me capable of filling the office as it should be filled, to give me their support. I shall have a good deal more to say on the subject in due time and give some reasons for the hope that is in me that I can be of service to the people and an honor to the State."

HUSTONVILLE

Mr. V. C. Carr, of Fort Thomas, Ky., was here recently on his way to New Orleans, on a wager of $100 to be made in 31 days on foot through the country. He had made the distance here from Fort Thomas in five days. He made the day's walk from Nicholasville to Hustonville, which is 36 miles in seven and a half hours, and seemed to be in fine condition after the walk. He went to Somerset from here. He is selling pants buttons for money to travel on. He started with fifty cents in his pocket and is to make his way and have $1.00 in his pocket when he reaches his destination.

Lair's bloodhounds were called to Pine Knot, Ky., a few days ago and made a very successful trail and the guilty party was brought to justice. Mr. and Mrs. Matt Engleman and children, of Campbellsville, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Lyon last week.

J. D. Burton, a well-to-do farmer of the Middleburg pike, had a narrow escape from death last Saturday afternoon, while returning home in a two-horse wagon. He was driving along and was sitting on an empty barrel, turned bottom upward, and when he pulled to one side of the road to let some one pass, the barrel tilted and pitched him out of the wagon with his head down. His head was badly seared up, but he is improving.

Miss Ola Williams and sister left last week for Jacksonville, Fla., where they will meet Harry Neal, formerly of this place, but now of Dade City, Fla., and Miss Ola Williams and Mr. Neal were united in marriage. They will return to Dade City to make their home. The bride is the beautiful daughter of Mrs. Bettie Williams, while the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Neal. We extend our best wishes to the young couple and hope them much joy and happiness.

Mrs. J. C. Neal, who has been quite ill at her home in Dade City, Fla., is very much improved.

Mrs. Helen Huffman has gone to Washington, D. C., to make a two weeks' visit to her niece, Mrs. Melbie Gibbs and family.

Miss Bessie Lightner, of the Good Samaritan hospital of Lexington, arrived Tuesday to take charge of Will Neal who has been quite ill is better at present and hopes are that he will still continue to improve. Miss Lightner came highly recommended as a trained nurse from that hospital. Mr. Neal has every attention given him by his many friends, both gentlemen and ladies, of the surrounding community and nothing has been left undone for his comfort, during his illness.

C. M. Back is treating the old stone building in the West End of town to a new metal roof, which is a great improvement. This building has been standing for many days and is good for many more to come. It is said that the stone that was used in this house was hauled from the farm that Mrs. M. M. Dunn owns on the Middleburg pike, four miles from here.

Corn shucking is the order of the day now and some of the finest ever seen in this section, is being harvested by the farmers. Wheat is all sown and is looking fine, although it has been needing rain.

ETNA

On the 7th, the Master visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Measles and took from them a jewel of their home which was their little son, Dayal, leaving only one little girl. Their precious one was ill for several years with a complication of disease. The people of the community at large rendered all the aid they could and the best physicians were summoned, but all in vain. It seemed almost to break the hearts of the young parents to have to behold the scene of the pale form, while friends and relatives gave all consolation that could be given. After a song and prayer Rev. J. S. Gibson made a short talk, but to the point and the last respect was paid, after which the remains were laid to rest in the Etna cemetery.

Mr. John Allen sold his farm on west side of Buck Creek, which consists of 100 acres for $3,500. J. C. Wheelton lost a mule last week. It received injuries in the stable which resulted in death.

M. T. Smith is covering his house.

Rev. J. L. Davis, of Racine, Mo., formerly of this state, is holding a very successful meeting in this county and adjoining counties.

Rev. Delk, who is and has been preaching at Science Hill was tried and fined $150. for using profane language in the pulpit.

J. C. Wheelton sold to V. T. Wilson, one brood sow, weighing 139 pounds at seven cents.

Mr. A. L. Payne's threshing separator turned over on the Indian Creek hill, but did no serious injury.

Back went threshing is over with an unusual yield of bushels to the acre.

G. L. Edwards, wanted in the federal court in Louisville, was killed Monday at Greensburg by Deputy U. S. Marshal James R. Howell.

PURYEAR ANNOUNCES

Is Candidate For Commonwealth's Attorney For Full Term

Announcement was made here today by Commonwealth's Attorney E. V. Puryear, of Danville, that he is a candidate for the democratic nomination to succeed himself, before the primary which will be held in August next year. Mr. Puryear was elected to fill the vacancy caused by the elevation of Judge C. A. Hardin to the circuit bench, and has only served three years yet during that time he has made many friends over the district, who will be found working hard for him to attain his ambition of serving out a full term of his own. The office of Commonwealth's Attorney is a very difficult one to fill so that all shall be pleased, but Mr. Puryear's friends say that they are confident the people over the district as a whole heartily approve the record he has made and will vote to give him the endorsement, which his friends say he deserves.

"MEN AND MILLIONS"

Movement Reaches Stanford and Contributions Are Sought

A distinguished company of ministers of the Christian church has been here this week, soliciting contributions in the "Men and Millions" Movement, which has for its ultimate plan at present the raising of $6,300,000 for the mission work of this denomination, and the enlistment of 1,000 additional workers in its fields. R. A. Long, the Kansas City millionaire gave a cool million himself for the great work, and the appeal that is being made to members of the church everywhere is meeting with splendid response. The men who are here engaged in the great work are A. E. Corey, of China, H. C. Saum, of India, R. H. Miller, of New York, H. J. Derthick, of Indianapolis, W. R. Warren, of Indianapolis, President Jos. A. Serena, of Cuyahoga College, New York, President R. H. Crossfield, of Transylvania University, Lexington and President of Cranberry, of Bethany College, West Virginia. Rev. D. M. Walker, pastor of the Stanford Christian church is co-operating with them in every way possible.

Judge H. D. Gregory Re-elected

News comes from California that in the recent election, Judge H. D. Gregory, formerly of Kentucky, whose wife is a daughter of Judge James P. Bailey, of Stanford, was re-elected District or County Judge of Butte county by a majority of 1,500 votes. Judge Gregory is a prominent Bull Moose of the Golden West state, one of the few places where the Progressives showed any strength in the recent election. His many friends "back home" are delighted over the honors he has attained in the West.

SOMERSET TO PLAY

HERE NEXT FRIDAY

Big Football Game Moved Up a Week—Local Boys Defeat Eastern Normal.

The Stanford High School football eleven won a great victory over the team from the Eastern Kentucky State Normal on the grounds here last Friday afternoon, the score standing 6 to 0, when the final whistle blew. Stanford is now on edge for the big game against Somerset, which has been moved up from Thanksgiving day for which it was scheduled, to this coming Friday afternoon. This was done by special request of the Somerset team, though Stanford would have preferred to have the game played on Thanksgiving day. This will be the big game of the season, for the local lads are determined to work their heads off for revenge for their defeat at the Pulaski county capital earlier in the season. The Stanford boys were far below the form they have recently shown and will give a much better account of themselves. Somerset has the best football eleven it has ever had, this season, and a big delegation of rooters will accompany the squad here. The game will be called at three o'clock Friday afternoon.

The game against Normal last Friday started by Stanford kicking off to the visitors who carried the ball to the middle of the field. There it saw-sawed about two periods, neither side being able to score. Tackler in center, and Perkins and S. Anderson at guard held the middle of the line like a stone wall, even though their opponents outweighed them by from 35 to 50 pounds to the man. Huns and Farmer also played a star game at tackles, their opponents not being able to gain an inch through their positions.

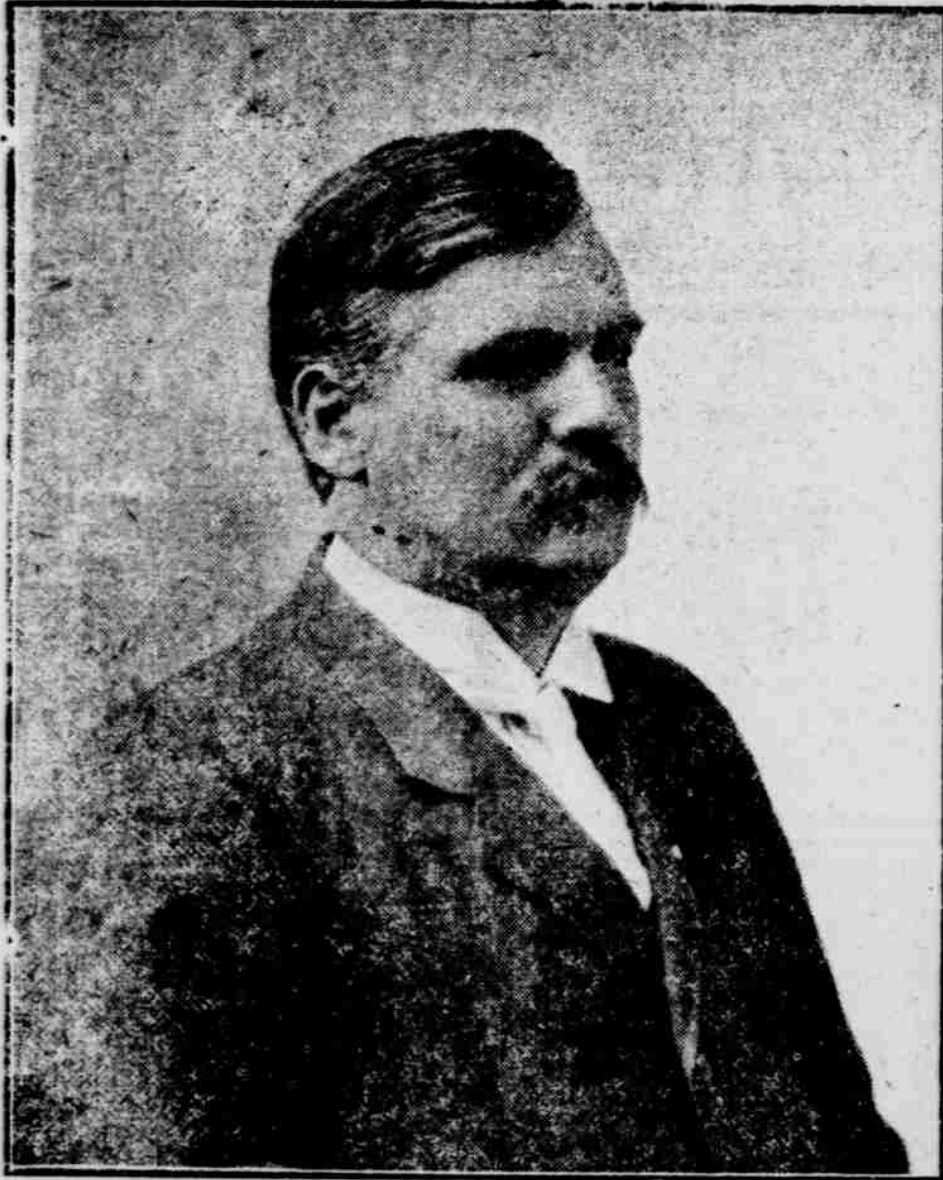

With the beginning of the third period the ball was carried into the enemy's territory where after two end runs by Coleman and Anderson and a line back by Powell, Embry succeeded in carrying the ball across the line for a touchdown. Embry punted out to the 20 yard line but no one received the ball. All but one pass failed in the game on both sides. Wilkinson and Embry did fine work on the ends for Stanford.

This is the largest score by which Stanford has ever defeated the Normal. The line-up was as follows:

S. H. S.	E. K. S. N.
Wilkinson	RE
Huns	R. T.
Anderson	RG
Tucker	C
Perkins	LG
Farmer	LT
Embry	LE
S. Embry	Q
Powell	FB
E. Anderson	RH
Colman	LT
Referee	Referee
Timekeepers	Timekeepers
Head linesman	Head linesman
Referee	Referee

Referee—Rout; umpire—Barnard; timekeepers—Mount and Mobley; head linesman—Menefer; time of quarters 12 minutes.

HON. C. A. HARDIN

(From the Lancaster Record)

Candidates for the respective political parties for the nomination for Circuit Judge of this Judicial District will be selected at the next August 1915 primary.

In this issue of the Record Judge Charles A. Hardin, who now holds the office, filling out the unexpired term of the late Judge M. C. Santley, asks for the democratic nomination. It has been an established custom of the party to renominate faithful democratic officials who honorably and efficiently perform the duties of the office during the first term as an endorsement, and especially is this true of a democrat who is filling out an unexpired term.

Since Judge Hardin has been upon the circuit bench, which has been about three years, he has worked hard and succeeded in clearing the docket and kept a practically clean of both criminal and civil cases. The criminal laws have been enforced without fear or favor which has resulted in the most orderly condition, taking the entire district in consideration, that has ever existed.

He has been universally courteous to the members of the bar, polite and affable, both on the bench and in his social dealings with people, an honorable Christian gentleman, and is in every way suited for high and responsible position he now holds. It will be a difficult task for any one to offer a single convincing reason to the democrats of this district why another should be selected to take Judge Hardin's place as judge of the thirteenth Judicial district and we feel confident that Judge Hardin will be re-nominated by a sweeping majority over any and all who may seek the nomination against him.

Judge Hardin is a good democrat, a learned and capable judge, polite and affable, both on the bench and in his social dealings with people, an honorable Christian gentleman, and is in every way suited for high and responsible position he now holds. It will be a difficult task for any one to offer a single convincing reason to the democrats of this district why another should be selected to take Judge Hardin's place as judge of the thirteenth Judicial district and we feel confident that Judge Hardin will be re-nominated by a sweeping majority over any and all who may seek the nomination against him.

"IN UP AGAINST THE DEAL THING NOW"

A great many traveling theatrical companies have fallen into the habit of refusing to use their special scenery when playing small cities where the stage accommodations are limited. But when Fred Byers, producer of the laughing success, "The Girl and the Tramp" turned the show over to the company manager, they gave him strict orders to use all the scenery wherever the Company played. The directing manager is so exacting on this point that he has the local theatre manager in each city report to the Home Office, if instructions have been fulfilled. If this order has been violated in the smallest detail, the party responsible receives a reprimand in the way of a heavy fine that is not soon forgotten. So the local theatre goers may look forward to a full and complete scenic production when "The Girl and the Tramp" come to the Stanford opera house Friday evening, November 20.
